Toxic Tort and Complex Litigation

The Toxic Tort and Complex Litigation Practice Group is a defense-oriented team of well trained and highly experienced attorneys who represent clients in all aspects of toxic tort litigation. The Group litigates in federal and state courts in the following areas:

- Chemical Exposure
- Lead Paint Poisoning in Adults and Children
- Mold Exposure
- Sick Building Syndrome
- Construction Defects
- Product Liability
- Catastrophic Personal Injury
- Medical Malpractice
- Premises Liability

Each member of the Group has a specific medical and scientific knowledge that is critical to the proper and comprehensive evaluation of the potential liability and damages aspects of toxic tort litigation. As needed, our attorneys have ready access to leading medical and technical experts who often have a key role to play in these matters. Working together, we provide our clients with effective, sophisticated representation skilled to meet the unique challenges posed by toxic tort litigation both in the courtroom and at the negotiating table.

Our Group has a keen awareness of the need for a cost-balanced approach to litigation. We strive to contain legal costs and at the same time provide a full and vigorous defense. We do this by efficient staffing, state-of-the-art technology, a competitive fee structure and aggressive case management techniques. We are also sensitive to the importance of timely and responsive client communication and that each attorney is immediately accountable for every aspect of the cases we defend.
